Making the most of our Teaching Assistants

With Julie McGrane & Dominic Martin

Recently published material by the EEF and Prof. John Hattie has questioned the use and value for money of Teaching Assistants. So how do we ensure Teaching Assistants are working effectively in our schools? In order to maximise the impact of Teaching Assistants we are bringing together Teaching Assistants for a morning of professional learning.

Teaching Assistants will have the opportunity to review their work in the classroom, before exploring a range of resources they could use to refine their practice.

Date 3rd October 8.30am – 12pm

Cost £50 per person
